Study Tours

Option A: The KAIROS Blanket Exercise: A Workshop in Reconciliation

The exercise uses blankets to represent the lands of what is now called Canada, and the distinct cultures and nations which live on those lands to this day. Participants represent the First Peoples; when they move onto the blankets, they are taken back in time to the arrival of the Europeans. The Narrator and facilitators will work with the participants to read a script while the exercise goes through the history of treaty-making, colonization and resistance that resulted in the nation we today call Canada.

Option B: Everyone has a Role to Play

Learn some of the tricks and techniques of live theatre from Death by Design Director and Huronia Players member Christine Killing. She will pick from a menu of acting, lighting, sound, and construction to let you know how it all works. Not only can you learn about theatre, but you can try your hand at part of the process.

Option: C Storytelling through Song

Deeply rooted in the local communities of Midland and Penetanguishene Nonnie and John, bring the sights and sounds of Georgian Bay to life through expert technical instruction and emotive choice of lyrics. Through this workshop you will learn how to reframe the stories of an area into a new artistic medium that may reach new audiences and give context to a visitor's experience in a region.
